A local author is set to release the "Three Rivers" trilogy of books, "The River of Time," "The River of Space," and "The River of Dreams," in the next few months. The author, Joyce Smith, is a native of Ames, N.Y., and has lived in Canajoharie for over 30 years. She is a member of the Trout Club and has caught many trout over the years. She is also a member of the Canajoharie Historical Society and has written several articles for the society's newsletter. She is currently working on the first book of the trilogy, "The River of Time," which is a historical fiction novel set in the 18th century. The second book, "The River of Space," is a science fiction novel, and the third book, "The River of Dreams," is a fantasy novel. She is also working on a non-fiction book about the history of Canajoharie.

Canajoharie board puts out bids for water project

Village seeks emergency repairs to aeration tank

By George Thibault
CT-100

CANAJOHARIE is seeking bids for the emergency repairs to the aeration tank at the village's wastewater treatment plant. The project is being funded by the village and the state. The village board has received several bids and is currently reviewing them. The project is expected to be completed in the next few months.

The village will receive the construction contract from the Canajoharie Central Water District, which is the village's water utility. The project is being funded by the village and the state.
